10. 科目内容・ 授業計画	Students who register must be fluent in English (minimum TOEFL scores 480), it is recommended to have taken Academic Writing Course, for the domestic students. The course is recommended for 3rd and 4th year students. However, all exchange students are welcome to register! As defined by the Ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle, human beings are "social animals." We rely on cooperation to survive and thrive. Depending on the specific historical context, each society has developed its own culture. For example, the notions of life and death differ greatly from culture to culture. There are also significant cultural differences in mundane daily activities such as eating habits, clothing, communication, and so on. The purpose of this course is to comprehend the characteristics of different cultures through comparison. We will particularly focus on food culture, festivals, traditional and religious rites, and performance culture. Students will use their language skills, acquired in practical English, to read, view and interpret textual and visual materials in English, and discuss their possible interpretations. Through this process, students will gain the ability to understand and value cultural differences, to communicate effectively with people from different cultural and social backgrounds, and thus will broaden their viewpoint.
